Bezludna wyspa, nora, grób. Wojenne kryjówki Żydów w okupowanej Polsce
[Desert island, burrow, grave. War-time hideaways of Jews in occupied Poland]

The author attempts at describing the underground, mysterious world in which Jews condemned to death tried to save their lives during the Holocaust. Those in hiding and those hidden by others suddenly found themselves in space that was limited physically, socially and symbolically.

ISBN 978-83-7629-354-7; Instytut Pamięci Narodowej, Warsaw 2012, A5 format, hardback, pp. 304 + 24 pp. of photographs ("Monographs" series, vol. 83), in stock

Konzentrationslager Warschau. Historia i następstwa
[Konzentrationslager Warschau. History and aftermath]

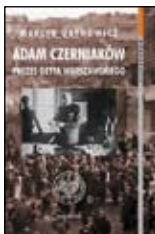

The aim of the work is to describe and try to systematise recent findings on KL Warschau, outline its historical background and present the most important documents from the inquiry into the crime of genocide committed in 1943–1944 in the German concentration camp in Warsaw. Equally important are questions continuously asked by historians and veterans' milieus, including especially the issues that trigger the biggest amount of polemics and disputes related to the size of the camp, its area, purpose and character, as well as doubts about how many people actually died in the camp, whether there were gas chambers and crematoria used in the camp and – if yes – where exactly, and if it is true that the camp was established in October 1942. The publication is also available in German. The book was awarded the KLIO 2007 Prize (3rd class) in the category Varsaviana.

Adam Czerniaków 1880–1942. Prezes getta warszawskiego

[Adam Czerniaków 1880–1942. Chairman of the Warsaw Ghetto]

The biography of Adam Czerniaków is marked by all crucial events from the history of Poland of the end of the 19th century and the first half of the 20th century: the partitions, the period of independence and the aggression of the Nazi Germany and of the Soviet Union. Czerniaków served many important functions in the socio-political life of the Second Polish Republic and was one of the main leaders of the Polish Jews. His moral courage, defiance of stereotypes and nonconformity made him unpopular. Since 1939, he was the chairman of the Judenrat in Warsaw. He committed suicide on 23 July 1942, the second day of the deportation of the Warsaw Jews to the death camp in Treblinka.

Polacy i Żydzi pod okupacją niemiecką 1939–1945: studia i materiały

[Poles and Jews under the German occupation 1939–1945: studies and materials]

In their articles, the authors analyse selected aspects of Polish-Jewish relations under the German occupation. The book contains six regional studies: on the Białystok Region, Cracow, Łódź, Katowice Regency, Rzeszów Region and Warsaw, as well as four thematic studies devoted to the following topics: the attitude of the Home Army and the Government Delegation for Poland towards the extermination of the Polish Jews; the Council to Aid Jews (Żegota) and the Polish "Righteous"; negative aspects of the occupation-time Polish-Jewish relations and the attitude of nationalist milieus towards the Holocaust.

DOCUMENTS

Jürgen Stroop, ed. Andrzej Żbikowski

Żydowska dzielnica mieszkaniowa w Warszawie już nie istnieje!

[The Jewish Quarter in Warsaw no longer exists!]

Jürgen Stroop's report was an official document prepared for the authorities by an officer in command of the suppression of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising and the liquidation of the ghetto in spring 1943. After the defeat of Germany in 1945, the report – initially aimed at presenting the efficiency of the German police and war machinery – became a proof of its criminal character, the unimaginable tragedy of the Warsaw Jews, the heroism of those who had taken up the fight and, finally, the social context of their fight.

[Solution to the Jewish Question in the District of Galicia]

The first full edition of Higher SS and Police Leader Fritz Katzmann's report about Operation Reinhard (Einsatz Reinhard), aimed at exterminating the Polish Jews. Together with another important document on the murder of the Polish Jews, Jürgen Stroop's report about the suppression of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising in April and May 1943, the original report was handed over to the Polish side in 1948. Both reports have been stored in the Archives of the Main Commission for the Investigation of Nazi Crimes in Poland.

WHOEVER SAVES ONE LIFE...

Karol Madaj, Małgorzata Żuławnik

Proboszcz getta [Ghetto parish priest]

During the partitions of Poland, Father Marcei Godlewski gave up his scientific career to devote himself to farmer chaplaincy. As the parish priest in All Saints' Church in Warsaw, he always sided with his parishioners, even when it led to economic conflicts with his Jewish neighbours. When the Warsaw Ghetto had been established, his church found itself within the ghetto walls. Father Godlewski obtained food, forged documents, consoled others and helped people escape. He became a symbolic Catholic priest rescuing the Jews. Years later, Father Godlewski was recognised as Righteous Among the Nations. ### „Kto w takich czasach Żydów przechowuje?...” Polacy niosący pomoc ludności żydowskiej w okresie okupacji niemieckiej [“Who hides Jews in such times?...” Poles helping the Jews during the German occupation]

Written as part of the IPN scientific and research project “Polacy ratujący Żydów” [Poles rescuing the Jews], the publication consists of several popular science texts. Their authors present many so-far unknown stories of people from towns and villages in various regions of Poland who risked their lives to save Jews during the German occupation.

Pomoc Polaków dla ludności żydowskiej na Rzeszowszczyźnie 1939–1945

The book is an additional source of knowledge on the help with which Poles provided the Jewish population in the Rzeszów Region. The topic of saving the Jews from death in this area has so far been only peripheral to research on the occupation authorities' policy towards the inhabitants of the region and to analyses of Polish-Jewish relations.

The Risk of Survival. The Rescue of the Jews by the Poles and the Tragic Consequences for the Ulma Family from Markowa

In a very synthetic way, the author presents the fate of the Poles and the Jews in German-occupied Poland during the Second World War. He focuses on the help Poles offered to the Jews during the Holocaust and pays particular attention to the village of Markowa in Subcarpathia, which served as a shelter for 25 Jews. The culminating point in the book are the events of 24 March 1944, when the Germans killed Józef and Wiktoria Ulma and their children for helping the Jews, as well as everyone they hid in their farm: eight people from the Szall and Goldman families.

Kto ratuje jedno życie... Polacy i Żydzi 1939–1945 [Whoever saves one life... Poles and Jews 1939–1945]

The book was written in 1968 in exile in London. Its author, a prominent Polish Army officer and the head of the 2nd (information and intelligence) Department of the High Command of the Home Army during the German occupation, decided to document instances of help offered by the Poles to the Jews during the Second World War. He also wanted to familiarise his readers with Polish-Jewish relations in 1939–1945.

Polacy, Żydzi i Holocaust [The Poles, the Jews and the Holocaust]

Stefan Korboński's book is the last in the series of numerous works by one of the most prominent politicians of the Polish peasant movement. Initially published in English as The Jews and the Poles in the World War II in 1986 in New York, it was written in response to the contemporary condition of Polish-Jewish relations on the American continent.

Their reception and analysis was influenced by the author's personal experiences, especially from the times of the Second World War. The book should be treated as an important document of that era of great source value.

[Auschwitz before court. The Frankfurt Trial 1963–1965. Documentation]

The trial of the Auschwitz staff took place in Frankfurt am Main between 20 December 1963 and 20 August 1965. The uniqueness of these judicial proceedings and their political significance consisted in the fact that a German court was obliged to review the case of one of the most terrible crimes that have ever been committed (and a crime that was committed by the Germans). Records of interrogations prompt reflections on the question why Auschwitz was even possible.

Zanim nadeszła Zagłada... Położenie ludności żydowskiej w Zagłębiu Dąbrowskim w okresie okupacji niemieckiej / Before the Holocaust Came... The Situation of Jews in Zagłębie during the German Occupation

Using rich iconographic materials, the author of the bilingual album reconstructed the life of the Jewish inhabitants of Zagłębie Dąbrowskie from the period between the entering of the German army in 1939 and the liquidation of the ghettos in August 1943. Complemented by a brief commentary, the photographic documentation illustrates the most important aspects of the situation of the Jews in Zagłębie Dąbrowskie during the occupation: the consequences of the first anti-Jewish restrictions in 1939–1940, everyday life and living conditions, activities undertaken by councils of elders, mass deportations to forced labour camps, selections to concentration camps, the process of isolation and ghettoisation of the Jews and the organisation of the resistance.
