

Institute of National Remembrance

<https://ipn.gov.pl/en/news/10596,The-first-transport-to-Auschwitz-14-June-1940.html>

06.05.2024, 08:04

14.06.2023

The first transport to Auschwitz - 14 June 1940

On 14 June 1940, German concentration camp Auschwitz received 728 Poles, its first - save for thirty German criminals who had been brought here to take the positions of kapos - inmates. Initially a detention and elimination facility targeting almost exclusively the Third Reich's enemies from Poland, in time it expanded the scope of its operation, adding extermination of Jews from all over Europe, slave labour benefitting the German industry, large-scale robbery of deportees, and many others.

The first transport to Auschwitz commemoration image

The first transport to Auschwitz commemoration image

The first transport to Auschwitz commemoration image

1

"You came here not to a sanatorium, but to a German concentration camp"

Large-scale German repressions against the Polish nation demanded a large terror facility: in all, 400,000 numbers were issued to the inmates, and some 900,00 were murdered without being registered.

They became numbers from 31 to 758.

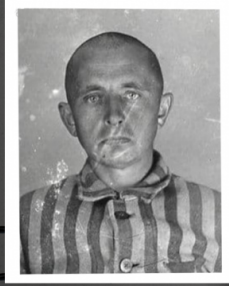

Their ordeal ultimately killed most of the first arrivals.

Daily Apocalypse. The first weeks in Auschwitz.

The chances of survival of the people who ended up in KL Auschwitz were slim; the camp was built to eliminate the Third Reich's enemies.

Five of the Auschwitz victims

 Stanisław Dubois

Publicist

Date of birth: January 9, 1901

Place of birth: Warsaw

He was a socialist politician, participant of the Polish–Bolshevik war and the Silesian Uprisings, in 1928–1933 he was a member of the Sejm of the Republic of Poland. He was arrested by the Germans under a false name (Dębski) on August 21, 1940 and transported to KL Auschwitz in September 1940. From the beginning he was active in the camp's underground structures. He was shot in the camp on August 21, 1942.

Photo: Archives of the Auschwitz-Birkenau State Museum in Oświęcim

#deathtransports

ipngovpleng

@ipngovpl_eng

INSTITUTE OF NATIONAL REMEMBRANCE

Auschwitz was not an exception - the German terror machine relied on a dense network of such facilities.

The German killing machine

Opcje strony

- Print this page
 - Generate PDF of this page
 - Notify about this page
 - Share this article
- Share on Facebook
- Share on Twitter