From the publisher

The issue of Polish-Jewish relations has enjoyed unfailing interest among scientists and history enthusiasts for years. This interest has resulted in scientific works, popular books and educational exhibitions. The cognitive curiosity is not surprising, because the relations of both nations have been formed over a very long period, almost from the beginning of the existence of the Polish state, and the history of their mutual contacts has an extremely complex nature.

The period of the Second World War has been a special experience. The Germans, enchanted by an insane ideology, used Polish lands to implement their gruesome plan: the ‘final solution’ of the Jewish question through mass executions, extermination in death camps, and inhuman living conditions in the ghettos. And although real help was provided by Poles to their Jewish neighbours, both in the institutional (‘Żegota’) and individual dimension, the German terror machine made these attempts ineffective.

These extremely difficult problems have become the subject of research conducted by the Institute of National Remembrance, which has translated into a number of publications, both scientific and popular-science. They are all presented in this catalogue.

Dzieje społeczności żydowskiej powiatu gorlickiego podczas okupacji niemieckiej 1939–1945
[The history of the Jewish community of the Gorlice County during the German occupation of 1939–1945]

The first publication presenting in a synthetic way the problem of extermination of Jews and the Polish-Jewish relations in the Gorlice region during 1939–1945. The first part presents the situation of Jews in the Gorlice county under German occupation and their extermination, as well as negative attitudes of Polish residents. The second part concerns the group of Poles from the Gorlice county who risked their lives to save Jews from death.

Sebastian Piątkowski
Radom w latach wojny i okupacji niemieckiej (1939–1945)
[Radom during the war and the German occupation (1939–1945)]

The book presents, in all aspects that are possible to study, the history of Radom during the war and German occupation. The author presents the process of extermination of the Radom Jewish community, starting from individual repression by the Germans, through the functioning of the ghetto and its liquidation, up to the history of local forced labour camps.

“Otoczone drutem państwo”. Struktura i funkcjonowanie administracji żydowskiej getta
“Wire Bound State”. Structure and Functions of the Jewish Administration of the Łódź Ghetto

Łódź–Warsaw 2017, pp. 336, translated to English by Katarzyna Gucio

The goal of the author of the book was to describe the structures and functioning of the administrative system in the Łódź Ghetto. By order of the German authorities, more than 160,000 Jews from Łódź and nearby towns were cramped on four square kilometres of the ghetto in the beginning of 1940. The publication is also available in English.

The book was awarded the Historical Prize of the ‘Polityka’ weekly in 2016, in the ‘Debut’ category.

The publications are also available in PDF format.

Zagłada Żydów w dystrykcie krakowskim w latach 1939–1945

[Extermination of the Jews in the Cracow District in 1939–1945]

The book focuses on the extermination of the Jews by the German occupier in the Cracow District. It describes both the indirect discrimination in the form of anti-Jewish decrees, new difficult living conditions, deportations and forced labour, as well as the direct one, that is murders committed in Jews' homes and meeting places, deportation to death camps and mass murders in gas chambers.

Getto białostockie. Doświadczenia Zagłady – świadectwa literatury i życia [Białystok Ghetto. Experience of the Holocaust – literary and life testimonies]
Białystok 2013, 320 pp., 2nd edition, supplemented and revised (publication series of the Białystok IPN Branch, vol. 5)

Departing from traditional historical methodology, the book is an original monograph on the Białystok Ghetto that views the topic from the viewpoint of someone who experienced the Holocaust and through literary testimonies of those times. The second edition has been revised and supplemented, among others with reproductions of the artwork by Izaak Celnikier, a Jewish painter who survived the Białystok Ghetto.

ISBN: 978-83-62357-09-3, price: 10 zł
We do not know much about the places where the doomed Jews tried to save their lives during the Holocaust. The author attempts at describing the underground, mysterious world. Those in hiding and those hidden by others suddenly found themselves in a space that was limited physically, socially and symbolically.

Martyna Grądzka

_A Broken Childhood. The Fate of the Children from the Jewish Orphanage at 64 Dietla Street at Cracow during the German Occupation_

Available in a Polish-English edition, the book is devoted to the wartime history of one of the social institutions from Cracow that helped Jewish orphans. The association that looked after children was established already in the second half of the 19th century and served a very important role in the life of the Jewish community in the district of Kazimierz, Cracow. The activities of the institution were put to an end by the Second World War. The author describes the ruthless and planned policy implemented by the Germans, which resulted in the extermination of many Jewish children in occupied Cracow.

Adam Czerniaków 1880–1942. Prezes getta warszawskiego
[Adam Czerniaków 1880–1942. Chairman of the Warsaw Ghetto]
Warsaw 2009, 375 pp. + 32 pp. insert
('Monografie' ['Monographs' series], vol. 50)
Adam Czerniaków played many important roles in the socio-political life of the Second Polish Republic and was one of the main leaders of the Polish Jews. His moral courage, defiance of stereotypes and nonconformity made him unpopular. Since 1939, he was the chairman of the Judenrat in Warsaw. He committed suicide on 23 July 1942, the second day of the deportation of the Warsaw Jews to the death camp in Treblinka.

The Risk of Survival. The Rescue of the Jews by the Poles and the Tragic Consequences for the Ulma Family from Markowa

(Ryzyko ocalenia. Ratowanie Żydów przez Polaków i tragiczne następstwa dla rodziny Ulmów z Markowej)

Warsaw 2009, 116 pp. („Kto ratuje jedno życie...” [„Whoever saves one life...”] series, vol. 3)

In a very synthetic way, the author presents the fate of the Poles and the Jews in German-occupied Poland during the Second World War. He focuses on the help Poles offered to the Jews during the Holocaust. He shows the efforts of the Polish Underground State and the ‘Żegota’ Council for Aid to Jews, as well as the actions of ordinary people who risked their lives to save their Jewish fellow citizens from extermination. Special place was given to the Ulma family murdered on 24 March 1944 for helping Jews.

The monograph presents inter-ethnic relations in the pre-war Province of Vilna (now Vilnius, Lithuania), the extermination of Polish citizens of Jewish origin, of members of the Polish underground in the region, of the Polish clergy, of the Soviet prisoners of war and of the Roma population during the existence of the Reich Commissariat Ostland, as well as the post-war criminal proceedings against perpetrators of crimes in the Vilna region against a broad historical background.

ISBN: 978-83-60464-91-5, out of print

In their articles, the authors analyse selected aspects of Polish-Jewish relations under the German occupation. The book contains six regional studies: on the Białystok Region, Cracow, Łódź, Katowice Regency, Rzeszów Region and Warsaw, as well as four thematic studies devoted to the following topics: the attitude of the Home Army and the Government Delegation for Poland towards the extermination of the Polish Jews; the Council to Aid Jews ‘Żegota’ and the Polish ‘Righteous’; negative aspects of the occupation-time Polish-Jewish relations and the attitude of nationalist milieus towards the Holocaust.

Renata Kobylarz

Warsaw 2009, 496 pp. (‘Monografie’ ['Monographs' series], vol. 49)

The author presents the forming of the image of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising through official propaganda in the press, scientific studies, history textbooks, film, literature and art. She shows the role played in this process by the celebrations of subsequent anniversaries. She also describes how the attitude towards the Jewish martyrdom was formed in opposition to the official propaganda among the Polish intellectual elites, the Roman-Catholic Church and the political opposition.

The book was awarded a prize in the ‘Władysław Pobóg-Malinowski’ Competition for the Best Historical Debut of 2007.

ISBN: 978-83-76290-41-6, price: 40 zł
Multi-author studies of the latest history of Poland, often enriched with source editions. This category also includes materials resulting from scientific meetings organised by the Institute of National Remembrance.
The study discusses the publication “It’s still night. The fate of Jews in selected counties of the occupied Poland”. The extensive article by Dr Tomasz Domański is the first in a series of reviews of the book prepared by the Institute of National Remembrance. It was prepared as a result of numerous enquiries to the Institute of National Remembrance by people interested in this subject. This is also a preview of the ‘Polish-Jewish Studies’, a new scientific journal of the Institute of National Remembrance.

The publication is available in PDF format.
“Nasi sąsiedzi – Żydzi”. Z dziejów relacji polsko-żydowskich na Kielecczyźnie w XX wieku [“Our neighbours – Jews”. From the history of Polish-Jewish relations in the Kielce region in the 20th century] scientific editing by Agnieszka Dziarmaga, Dorota Koczwańska-Kalita, Edyta Majcher-Ociesa, Kielce 2018, pp. 296 + 24 pp. illustr. insert

The publication presents Polish-Jewish relations in the Kielce region in the 20th century in scientific approach.

The book discusses the issues of armed and civilian underground resistance, secret education and everyday life, as well as the fate of Łódź Jews.

Ewa Rogalewska

Wartości pamięci. Szkice o ludziach idei w XX wieku

[Memory values. Essays about people of ideas in the 20th century]

The book, a volume of essays from the border area of literary studies, social history and anthropology, presents the fate of selected people who recorded their 20th century identity changes in personal document literature. In addition to presenting individual portraits, an attempt was made to describe social groups repressed in the 20th century.

Elity i przedstawiciele społeczności żydowskiej podczas II wojny światowej
[Elites and representatives of the Jewish community during the Second World War]

The articles collected in the volume depict the functioning of the elites and representatives of the Jewish community in Europe during the German and Soviet occupations, their attitudes and mechanisms of conduct. The texts discuss the fate of Jewish leaders, the formation of the new Jewish elite, the artistic, intellectual and religious activities of the elites.

Zagłada Żydów na polskiej prowincji
[Extermination of the Jews in the Polish provinces]

The volume is a result of the scholarly conference “Nie masz już żydowskich miasteczek...” Zagłada Żydów na polskiej prowincji. Ofiary. Sprawcy. Świadkowie” [“There are no more Jewish towns...” Extermination of the Jews in the Polish provinces. Victims. Perpetrators. Bystanders] organised in 2011 in Łódź. The articles represent varying research approaches: from anthropology, through literature studies, to history, or even statistics analysis.

Okupowana Europa. Podobieństwa i różnice
[Occupied Europe. Similarities and differences]

The book contains extended and supplemented papers presented at an international scientific conference organised by the Institute of National Remembrance on 10–11 May 2011 in Warsaw. Its purpose was to attempt a comparison – on the example of Belgium, France and Poland – of the German occupation in Western and Central-Eastern Europe during the Second World War.

The publication is also available in French.

Pomoc Polaków dla ludności żydowskiej na Rzeszowszczyźnie 1939–1945
[Polish help for the Jewish population in the rzeszów Region 1939–1945]
Rzeszów 2008, 416 pp. („Kto ratuje jedno życie...” [„Whoever saves one life...”] series, vol. 2)

The book is an additional source of knowledge on the help provided by the Poles to the Jewish population in the Rzeszów region. The topic of saving the Jews from death in this area has so far been only peripheral to research on the occupation authorities' policy towards the inhabitants of the region and to analyses of Polish-Jewish relations.

Zagłada Żydów na polskich terenach wcielonych do Rzeszy [Extermination of the Jews in Polish territories annexed to the Reich] scientific editing by Aleksandra Namysło, Warsaw 2008, 284 pp. (‘Konferencje’ ['Conferences'] series, vol. 34)

A collection of papers presented during an international scholarly conference on the extermination of the Jewish population in the Polish territories annexed into the Reich. Among others, the authors discussed the German authorities' anti-Jewish policies in respective annexed regions, the organization of the Jews' life, the role of Jewish leaders, Jews' attitudes towards the occupation reality and the Holocaust, the Polish society's attitude towards the tragedy of their Jewish neighbours and post-war attempts at bringing the ones responsible for the crimes against the Jews in the annexed territories to justice.

Zagłada Żydów zagłębiowskich
[Extermination of Jews from Zagłębie Dąbrowskie]

The publication is an aftermath of a symposium organised on 9 September 2003 during the commemoration of the 60th anniversary of the extermination of the Jews from Będzin. The symposium participants presented papers that not only described the process of extermination of the Jews from Zagłębie Dąbrowskie itself, but also tackled problems of a more general nature that were characteristic of the situation of all Jewish inhabitants of the Katowice Regency.

Represje za pomoc Żydom na okupowanych ziemach polskich w czasie II wojny światowej, vol. 1

[Repression for helping Jews in the occupied Polish territories during the Second World War, vol. 1]

The publication is a partial result of the project ‘Index of Poles murdered and repressed for helping Jews during the Second World War’. The volume is an expanded, revised and updated version of the 2014 ‘Rejestr faktów represji na obywatelach polskich za pomoc ludności żydowskiej w okresie II wojny światowej’ [‘Register of acts of repression on Polish citizens for helping Jewish people during the Second World War’]. The goal was to identify the names of Polish citizens not covered by the Nazi Nuremberg legislation, who lived within the borders of the Republic of Poland as of 31 August 1939 and who were repressed for helping Jews during the Second World War. The book contains 333 notes concerning 654 persons.

Na wzór Berka Joselewicza. Żołnierze i oficerowie pochodzenia żydowskiego w Legionach Polskich, z przedmową Richarda Pipesa [Modelled on Berek Joselewicz. Soldiers and officers of Jewish origin in the Polish Legions, with a preface by Richard Pipes]

The book commemorates those brave people who first fought for Poland’s independence and then died on the fronts of the Second World War in ghettos and camps for Jews. Their fate provides an example of Polish-Jewish relations not limited to conflict situations. In 2011 the book received the PRO MEMORIA Prize, awarded by the Council for the Protection of the Memory of Struggle and Martyrdom.

Critical studies of collections of previously unknown archival materials on the latest history of Poland. They show, above all, the various forms of repression that Polish citizens experienced under the two totalitarianisms (nazi and communist), and organized manifestations of the nation’s resistance.
Stefan Korboński

Listy amerykańskie 1953–1983

[American letters 1953–1983] scientific editing by Roman W. Rybicki, Bartosz Nowożycki, Warsaw 2019, 368 pp. ('Z archiwum emigracji' ['From the emigration archive'] series, vol. 6)

The publication contains official letters published by Stefan Korboński in American daily newspapers. The collection published here includes his letters to newspaper editors, who often had poor knowledge of Central and Eastern European matters and made glaring errors, as well as statements of the Assembly of Captive European Nations, for example on forced labour camps in Soviet bloc countries, or his recollections on the anniversary of the outbreak of the Warsaw Uprising in the form of a letter to the editor of the New York Times. A large part of the intervention in the American press also concerned false information appearing there about Polish-Jewish relations during the German occupation. The correspondence shows not only the author’s insight into events important for Poland, but also a realistic line of Poland’s independence policy.

Dziennik 1941–1943
[Diaries 1941–1943]
foreword and editing by Maria Wardzyńska,

A shocking account of a pre-war journalist about a mass German crime at Ponary near Vilnius, which also involved Lithuanians collaborating with the Germans as executors. The notes cover the period from 11 July 1941 to 6 November 1943. A majority of the Ponary victims were Jews (about 70,000), mostly those from Vilnius and the region.

translated from English by Grażyna Waluga, Warsaw 2011, 131 pp. (‘Z archiwum emigracji’ [‘From the emigration archive’] series, vol. 4)

Stefan Korboński’s book is the last in the series of numerous works by one of the most prominent politicians of the Polish peasant movement. Initially published in English as “The Jews and the Poles in the World War II” in 1986 in New York, it was written in response to the contemporary condition of Polish-Jewish relations on the American continent. The book should be treated as an important document of that era, of great source value.

Warsaw 2009, 390 pp. (‘Z archiwum emigracji’ [‘From the emigration archive’] series, vol. 2)

The book was written in 1968 in exile in London. Its author, a prominent Polish Army officer and the head of the 2nd Department (Information and Intelligence) of the High Command of the Home Army during the German occupation, decided to document instances of help offered by the Poles to the Jews during the Second World War. He also wanted to familiarise his readers with Polish-Jewish relations in 1939–1945.

Jürgen Stroop’s report was an official document prepared for the authorities by an officer in command of the suppression of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising and the liquidation of the ghetto in spring 1943. After the defeat of Germany in 1945, the document, which was to show the efficiency of the German police-military machinery, became a source that shows its criminal nature.

Testimonies and memoirs

Testimonies about the history of Poland. Historical phenomena and processes, attitudes of Polish citizens and everyday reality seen through the eyes of individuals have been recorded in their memoirs.
Relacje o pomocy udzielanej Żydom przez Polaków w latach 1939–1945, vol. 1: Dystrykt warszawski Generalnego Gubernatorstwa

[Accounts of assistance provided to Jews by Poles during 1939–1945, vol. 1: Warsaw District of the Generalgouvernement]

selected and edited by Sebastian Piątkowski, Lublin–Warsaw 2018, pp. 534

The publication contains 194 testimonies regarding the assistance provided to Jews by Poles in the Warsaw District of the Generalgouvernement during 1939–1945. The testimonies were authored by both Poles and Jewish survivors of the Holocaust. The testimonies have been provided with extensive scientific annotations that concern, among others, post-war contacts of the survivors with the rescuers, as well as the awards of the title of the Righteous Among the Nations to the latter.

Seven volumes of the publication are planned:
Vol. 2: Dystrykt krakowski Generalnego Gubernatorstwa [Cracow District of the Generalgouvernement]
Vol. 3: Dystrykt lubelski Generalnego Gubernatorstwa [Lublin District of the Generalgouvernement]
Vol. 4: Dystrykt radomski Generalnego Gubernatorstwa [Radom District of the Generalgouvernement]
Vol. 5: Dystrykt Galicja Generalnego Gubernatorstwa i inne obszary ukraińskie [Galizien District of the Generalgouvernement and other Ukrainian areas]
Vol. 6: Białostoczyzna, Wileńszczyzna, Nowogródczyzna [Białystok, Wilna, Nowogródek regions]
Vol. 7: Ziemia zachodnie włączone do Rzeszy i Rzesza [Western lands incorporated into the Third Reich, and the pre-WW2 German Reich].

The entire project will include approximately 1,000 documents, accompanied by extensive scientific commentary. The subsequent volumes will be published during 2020–2021.

Jafa Wallach
Gorzka wolność. Wspomnienia ocalonej z Хoloaustу [Bitter freedom. Memoirs of a holocaust survivor] afterword by Rena Bernstein, edited for the Polish edition by Elżbieta Rączy, Rzeszów 2012, 166 s + 25 pp. phot. insert

The book shows how far human endurance can be stretched when fighting for one's own life and those of one's relatives. It also depicts the determination of a Polish family and friends in saving a group of Jews from death at the hands of the German occupiers. The memoirs of Jafa Wallach and the accounts of her daughter Rena Bernstein and sister Helena Manaster-Ramer are an important supplement to the knowledge about the fate of Jews during the German and Soviet occupation of South-Eastern Poland and about the Polish-Jewish relations.

Sobibór. Protest against judgment

Sobibór has been the least known of all the extermination camps. The history of the camp in which over 300 thousand people were murdered has been reconstructed on the basis, first of all, of reports, testimonies and diaries of former prisoners who survived the uprising and lived to be liberated. The publication consists of fragments of testimonies of 27 survivors and of two letters thrown out of a train heading for the camp by people who then died in a gas chamber.

Marceli Stark

Ale jednak czuję i żyję... Pamiętnik więźnia obozu pracy w Budzyńiu
[But I can still feel and I live... Diary of a prisoner of the labour camp at Budzyń]

Memoirs of Marceli Stark provide the voice of a Polish Jew who survived the Second World War massacre, a mathematician and a pre-war Polish communist, born in Lvov (now Lviv in Ukraine) in 1908. The diary was written in late 1945/early 1946 and it mainly covers 1943. It is the most comprehensive testimony available about the camp at Budzyń. The memoirs are accompanied, among others, by a selection of the author's post-war correspondence.

Before 1939, half of the craftsmen in Poland came from the Jewish community. The attack of the Third Reich and the Soviet Russia on Poland enabled Germany to implement the ‘Endlösung der Judenfrage’ (‘Final solution of the Jewish question’). The Holocaust has become a fact. Baruch Elimelech Rak has co-founded the modern movement of Jewish craftsmen in Warsaw and Poland. He was the only one among the leaders who managed to emigrate in time and write his memoirs. Without this voice, Poland’s history would not be complete.

History through the lens. The history albums combine a wealth of unique archive photographs with source texts; they present key events and profiles of great heroes from the history of Poland in the 20th century.
Mateusz Szpytma

Sprawiedliwi i ich świat. Markowa w fotografii Józefa Ułmy
[The righteous and their world. Markowa in Józef Ulma’s photographs]

Józef Ulma (1900–1944) was an amateur photographer and documented the life of his home village of Markowa. In 1942, he and his wife Wiktoria gave shelter to Jews who were looking for help. A year and a half later, on 24 March 1944, all of them were murdered by German gendarmes. In 1995 Józef and Wiktoria Ulma were posthumously awarded the title of Righteous Among the Nations.

“Polish-Jewish Studies”

A new yearly journal, published simultaneously in English and Polish, that discusses the Polish-Jewish relations and the history of the Jewish community in Poland in the 20th century. The aim is also to present national and local research and activity to preserve the memory of the Polish Jews. The journal is planned as a forum for the exchange of scientific thought in Jewish Studies for all researchers, not only those related to the Institute of National Remembrance.

LAUNCH SOON
The first issue is dedicated to the Second World War. The texts cover both the positive and negative experiences in mutual relations. The issue is supplemented with reports of important scientific events and actions to preserve the memory of the Polish Jews, and with reviews.

The first issue of the PJS will include the following articles:

– Tomasz Domański, “The ‘August decree’ trial of ‘navy blue’ policemen from Wodzisław charged with a crime against Jews”;

– Alicja Gontarek, “Polish consular and diplomatic mission in Havana and the issue of Jewish refugees in Cuba during the Second World War”;

– Sebastian Piątkowski, “‘Aryan papers’. The issues of help provided by Poles to Jews in legalising false identities in the Generalgouvernement”;

“Biuletyn IPN”
[“Bulletin of the Institute of National Remembrance”]

One of the most recognizable brands of the Institute of National Remembrance. A popular science journal for history enthusiasts, dedicated to the history of Poland during 1917–1989. The bulletin publishes interviews with researchers and witnesses of history, articles of the Institute workers, archival material and memoirs.
The topics of the extermination of Jews and of Polish-Jewish relations during Second World War appeared in the following issues, among others:

“Biuletyn IPN” no. 1–2/2019
“Biuletyn IPN” no. 1–2/2018
“Biuletyn IPN” no. 6/2017
“Biuletyn IPN” no. 3/2009
“Biuletyn IPN” no. 3/2008
“Biuletyn IPN” no. 11/2005
Educational and popularising materials

Studies that result from various projects to popularise history, both educational and archival. To a large extent, they are provided free of charge as educational aids, a large part of these are available on the website of the Institute of National Remembrance.
Complemented by a brief commentary, the photographic documentation illustrates the most important aspects of the situation of the Jews in Zaglebie Dąbrowskie from the period between the entering of the German army in September 1939 and the liquidation of the ghettos in August 1943: the consequences of the first anti-Jewish restrictions in 1939–1940, everyday life and living conditions, activities undertaken by co-councils of elders, mass deportations to forced labour camps, selections to concentration camps, the process of isolation and ghettoisation of the Jews and the organisation of the resistance.
Educational portfolios

Educational aid for teachers of history and other humanities, provided free of charge to schools.
Zagłada Żydów polskich w czasie II wojny światowej [Extermination of Polish Jews during the Second World War. Education package]

edited by Adam Puławski, Agnieszka Jaczyńska, Dariusz Libionka, Warsaw 2005, 88 pp. + 36 pp. + 36 cards

The aim of the publication is to help teachers in sharing and students in assimilating the knowledge about the unimaginable massacre of almost 6 million European Jews, including 3.5 million Polish Jews. It is also supposed to constantly shape the living memory of those events and in particular of the victims, their suffering and death, as well as about the courage and determination of those who survived. The package is divided into two parts: materials for the teacher and for the students.

The publication is available in PDF format.
Auschwitz. Pamięć dla przyszłości
[Auschwitz. Memory preserved for the future. Education package]

The publication presents five years of the tragic history of the Auschwitz concentration camp: from its establishment to its liberation. The package is divided into two parts: materials for the teacher and for the students.

Niemieckie obozy zagłady i obozy koncentracyjne w okupowanej Polsce

Witryna edukacyjna Instytutu Pamięci Narodowej przedstawia podstawowe informacje o obozach zagłady i obozach koncentracyjnych utworzonych przez III Rzeszę Niemiecką na terenach okupowanej Polski podczas II wojny światowej. Gdy w światowych mediach pojawiają się krzywdzące określenia, przypisujące zorganizowanie tych obozów narodom okupowanym, przypominamy, że jedyną i pełną odpowiedzialność za stworzenie „fabryk śmierci” ponoszą Niemcy. Chcemy, by tragedia ofiar na zawsze była przestrogą przed nieludzkim systemem totalitarnych dyktатур.

Najważniejsze niemieckie obozy koncentracyjne i niemieckie obozy śmierci w granicach tzw. Wielkich Niemiec w latach 1941–1944
