Author’s agreement

The article entitled

........................................................................................................

........................................................................................................

........................................................................................................

submitted for publication, is not being considered for publication by another journal and has not been published before. This is an original paper, and it does not violate the rights of the third party. All individuals who have contributed to this publication have been credited as co-authors or disclosed in the acknowledgement section.

The author has disclosed all sources of funding for the study and the contribution of research institutions, scientific institutions, associations and the like.

I have become acquainted with the sets of editorial criteria that ensure authorship and contributorship (among others, counteracting inappropriate types of authorship, such as ghostwriting or guest authorship) provided on the website of the journal ‘Aparat Represji w Polsce Ludowej 1944-1989’.

I grant my consent to introduce the necessary changes to my paper following the editorial recension.

........................................................................................................

Author’s signature